Standard description

Agilis is a 100% free dating app for meaningful relationships, made by Agilis Dating Ltd, a technology company based in London. Launched in the UK on 12 May 2025, Agilis is now available worldwide on iPhone, Android and the web, in 35 languages. There are no subscriptions, premium tiers or paywalls: browsing profiles, seeing who likes you, search filters, and voice and video calls are free for everyone. Members verify their photos, can have up to ten unanswered outgoing Likes at a time so that every Like means something, and can call their matches without sharing a phone number. Agilis alerts members to red flags in conversations, such as requests for money, and helps them find events nearby. Advertising from local businesses keeps the app free.
